

Product Safety Certification

According to European Union law :

Products supplied by MAYER CZ, Ltd. (seating furniture for office , medical , laboratory and residential purposes, desks and accessories) have the character of products without increasing security threats and special product safety acts did not apply. For this reason, the producer or dealer shall not be entitled to submit a declaration of conformity.

Among products with increased security threats include products with electrical equipment, children's furniture and toys for children under 3 years of age, weapons, pressure vessels, special medical equipment, etc.

Among products without increased security threats include for example the seating furniture for medical and laboratory interiors.

Product safety is the valid rules based solely on the laws on general product safety. We will instruct and warn you about all risks in instructions how to install and use, in accordance with these laws.
